

Prince2® 7 Virtual Online Classroom Training

How courses are planned to work – 2025.

Day classes: On each of the five days, four training timeslots will be held. The standard times of each timeslot will be 08:30 – 10:00, 10:30 – 12:00, 12:45 – 14:15 and 14:45 – 16:15. At the start of each course the group could decide to adjust the timeslot times. During the first three days, the foundation course will be delivered.

The fourth and fifth days will be devoted to preparation for the practitioner exam. The sitting of the practitioner exam is planned for the following week, typically on the Tuesday morning.

Before enrolling on your course, please consider whether you would like to make use of the mock exam option and whether you also prefer to include the Take2 exam option for either or both the foundation and practitioner exams. The purpose of ordering the Take2 exam option, is to allow yourself to have a free second attempt at the exam, in the event that you are unable to achieve the 60% pass mark, on your first attempt.

Course booking and pre-course preparation: Once payment terms have been agreed, a virtual meeting will be scheduled to set your laptop up to perform the pre-course work. During this meeting you will receive a pre-course preparation booklet, a memory map and your eBook version of the official Prince2® 7 reference manual. We suggest that the pre-course assignments be performed thoroughly. Ideally over a two-week period.

While performing the pre-course meeting, you will be given access to your Peoplecert portal account. You will then have access to a variety of facilities including the ability to download the Prince2® 7 Learner Workbook. The workbook will give you access to the two sample foundation exam papers.

At the end of the third day, practitioner sample exams will be mailed to you for use during the practitioner part of the course.

Connectivity: During the pre-course virtual meeting, connectivity testing will be performed, to ensure that the first day of the course proceeds smoothly. Although the delegate is responsible for their side of the connectivity, everything possible will be done to ensure the course can commence without disruption.

While preparing your readiness for the course, we would suggest ensuring that your computer's sound, microphone, lighting (load shedding is still a probability), internet access and outside sound interference are manageable and can be controlled e.g. barking dogs, ringing phones, noisy outsider interruptions, etc. During the course, the trainer could request that you mute your sound to exclude undesirable disturbances.

Using course files provided: During the week preceding the course, a 2 hour zoom meeting will be held to familiarise you with how the electronic files (provided to you) should be used for best results. One of the files provided will be a list of proposed highlighting items that should be made while performing the pre-course reading assignments. The objective is to assist with being aware of important and examinable text, compare to the standard text.

Benefits of virtual training:

- Able to receive accredited training while in your home or office with less interruptions
- Avoiding commuting to a training venue and accompanying travel cost and saving precious time
- Greatly reduced “overall” training costs, but retains the atmosphere of a classroom environment
